CARR-211 Catherine & Rachel Beam House
3358 Uniontown Road

3358 Uniontown Road was built between 1810 and 1812. The land was conveyed in two lots by Earhart Cover—one to Catherine Beam for $60 and one to Rachel Beam for $50. In 1812, the Beams sold the property to Ann Brown for $555, the price indicating that there was a house on the property at that time. By 1830, Ann Brown had moved to Perry County, Ohio, (one of a number of Uniontown residents to migrate to Ohio Territory during the early nineteenth century), and she sold the property to John Swartzbaugh. It is listed in the 1837 tax assessment as a log house. This house has a central entrance, in contrast to the side entrance on the log house at 3348 Uniontown Road, but in the other features the two structures are similar, including the mid-nineteenth century design of the porch. This is one of three locations where Grant Heltibridle operated a barbershop during the early twentieth century. (3451 and 3349 Uniontown Road were the other locations.)
